

Lisbon Conference on Feminist Epistemologies: An interdisciplinary dialogue

Lisbon, 28-29 October 2024

October 28	Faculty of Sciences, Amphitheatre FCIências.ID, Building C1, Floor 3
09:00 - 09:45	Registration
09:45 - 10:00	Welcome address
10:00 - 11:00	Keynote speaker: Esa Díaz-León (LOGOS, University of Barcelona), "Epistemic Injustice and Social Construction"
11:00 - 11:30	Coffee break
11:30 - 12:00	Anna Rafecas Sogas (Universitat de Barcelona), "A Non-Empiricist Defence of Epistemic Privilege"
12:00 - 12:30	Elena Popa (Jagiellonian University), "Epistemic Trust Injustice and Epistemic Disadvantage in Standpoint Epistemology"
12:30 - 13:00	Eleonora Severini (University of Pavia), "Standpoint Epistemology as a Moral Epistemology"
13:00 - 13:30	Miriam Ronzoni (University of Manchester), "Epistemic Privilege and Hermeneutical Injustice: Not Necessarily Incompatible"
13:30 - 15:00	Lunch
15:00 - 15:30	Ayse Seda Umul (Bilkent University), "Structural Gaslighting in Patriarchal Societies: The Marginalisation of Queer Identities in Turkey"
15:30 - 16:00	Bahar Oghalai (Universität Koblenz), "Transformative Journeys of Iranian Feminist Activists in Germany: Reframing Feminisms through Migration"
15:00 - 15:30	Adam Ezinwanyi Edikanabasi (Babcock University), "Of becoming a Nigerian girl - (Re)Examining Girlhood and Girling Experiences and Identity in Sub-Saharan Africa"
16:30 - 17:00	Gina Wirz-Suárez (Geneva Graduate Institute) & Mar Maiques Díaz (Independent scholar), "Women* on the move: Feminist Epistemological and Methodological approaches to the activism of Exiled and Migrant Women from the Global South"
17:00 - 17:30	Coffee break
17:30 - 18:30	Keynote speaker: Adriana Piscitelli (UNICAMP - Núcleo de estudos de Género PAGU, Campinas), "Thinking from the South: Feminist epistemologies, anthropological knowledge and decolonial approaches"

October 29	ISCTE-IUL, Auditorium JJ Laginha, Building 1 North/East, Floor 1
09:00 - 09:30	Ashley Dell'Orso (CEI-Iscte), "Undoing Colonial Feminisms: Routes to Transnational and Decolonial Feminist Solidarities for Global Justice and Liberation"
09:30 - 10:00	Ephraim Ahamefula Ikegbu (University of Calabar), "Power, Identity, and Knowledge: A Feminist Epistemological Analysis of Women's Political Exclusion in Nigeria"
10:00 - 10:30	Eszter Kováts (Institute of Political Science, University of Vienna), "The possibility of a partially shared reality – Current challenges to feminist epistemology and politics"
10:30 - 11:00	Nathalie Grima (University of Malta), "The intersection between resilience and social capital when studying poverty taking into consideration gender and ethnicity: a congruent theoretical framework"
11:00 - 11:30	Coffee break
11:30 - 12:00	Billie Rae (Independent scholar), "Can Epistemology Be Feminist?: Historical Materialism, Standpoint Theory, and the Gendered (Re)Production of Knowledge"
12:00 - 12:30	Ellena Thibaud-Latour (Université de Montréal), "Undone science and women's health: Ignorance in medical research as a structural injustice"
12:30 - 13:00	Marilou Niedda (Utrecht University), "Feminist epistemology of science and AI: how to rethink algorithmic calculations through lived experiences in datafication"
13:00 - 14:30	Lunch
14:30 - 15:00	Claudia Arnaldo López (Universidad Complutense de Madrid), "Oops, I did it again: how to deal with the tradwife phenomenon without incurring in epistemic injustices"
15:00 - 15:30	Maria Amiridi-Wiedenmayer (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens), "The Reappropriation of the Witch Myth: An Alternative Epistemology"
15:00 - 16:00	Alejandra del Rocio Bello (Universidad de Antioquia), "Tenderness: a category for epistemic justice in feminist political theory"
16:00 - 16:15	Coffee break
16:15 - 17:15	Keynote speaker: Sabiha Allouche (University of Exeter) , "The things we do for Palestine: The Magic of Palestine and Feminist Critical Fabulation"
17:15 - 17:30	Break
17:30 - 18:30	Miguel Vale de Almeida (Iscte-iul /CRIA), Wrap up